JANESPORT & BUCKLE IN DAVENPORT COUNTY HISTORY

By Miss Lucille Horton

Janesport Correspondent

In the year 1814 a man by the name of Thomas A. Saberry settled in what is now Janesport township, and was soon followed by many others. Mr. Saberry came here from Ray county and settled on a farm, near the north part of the town of Janesport. Thomas Saberry was of the old fashioned life. He was an all-around kind of man, and could turn his hand and voice to anything. He was a preacher, doctor, farmer, horse trader, horse racer, surveyor, and many other things. His wife was the daughter of an Indian chief and when she died he helped bury her, assisting in the burial service, and placing her in her coffin as was customary with Indian rites.

The township did not settle rapidly. The first settlers located in the east part of the township. They believed the soil poor and that it was an impossibility to turn the sod of the prairie. "Saberry Grove" was the principal settlement in the township and that section far prairie. In 1818 a number came from Virginia. Jas. Williams, Richard Mill, John McInnes, and Robert Miller all came from the same state and in the same named year. They were soon afterwards followed by James Jordan, James G. Hill, Jonathan Oxford, and James McInnes, and a number of others. It wasn't long until they had comfortable homes, built out of logs.

The nearest grist mill was on the river at Freeborn. The farmers drove hogs and cattle to Freeborn where they were slaughtered and butchered and sold for $1.50 per hundred pounds. Needless they would have to stay there a week before the animals were killed. They would bring back eggs, coffee, and dry goods, most of the time the farmers would go to Lexington for supplies which were shipped up the Missouri from St. Louis.

They did not have horses to plow the prairie land. It took six yoke of oxen to turn the sod over. They used a Missouri plow with an iron shaver and a wooden mold board.

There was plenty of wild game then, deer, turkey, prairie chickens, quail, etc. They always had plenty of wild meat in the house the year around. They didn't get much for the stock they sold but they didn't need much in those days as they made their clothes from wool and flax. The wool was washed and picked by hand, then taken to the carding machine where it was made into rolls. It was then spun on a hand-wheel into yarn and woven into cloth on a home-made loom.

Then it was made into clothing by hand, no sewing machines in those days. A few years later those who could afford it bought sewing and made their Sunday dresses. Calico was fifty cent a yard.

About 1820 the breeding and tending prairies were found to be as fertile as they were beautiful and soon a large portion of the prairie had been broken up into fields. Oxen reared by wild people were beginning to fill up with loving herds of cattle and sheep.

Some people nowadays might think that marriage was a drawback in those pioneer days but they would be quite wrong. The young people of those days believed that success would attend their united efforts and a log cabin, a patchwork floor, a couple of pigs, a little corn meal and venison and a hen or two were considered a pretty good wedding outfit, with the world before them.

In the year 1820 the first wedding in Janesport township took place. The entertaining parties were Richard Hill and Miss Ann Gillilan. Isaac Jordan, a justice of the peace, said the words that were then said and wife. They went to housekeeping at once and added the duties of every day life as they passed their honeymoon. They spent many years of happiness together and lived to a good old age but once in awhile a ray of sorrow would touch their lips. Much life is transitory and if the hours of affliction never come happiness itself would be less precious.

The first death was a child of Mr. Liggett, who died in 1820 and was buried in the Hill cemetery, which is still in use today. The first regular physician who settled in the township was Dr. Carr. He was here about two years, then left and went to Memphis, Tenn., where he died a few years later. The first minister was Abraham Mills of the Methodist church. He preached in a log cabin built on section 17, just west of Saberry Grove. Along about that time Mr. Robert Morgan, a Presbyterian minister, held services at the home of Robert Miller. The first school was in an old log cabin built on the Saberry farm. Lewis McWay being the teacher. This was in 1820. He received six dollars per month for six pupils and boarded with various families in the vicinity. The first school house was built in the township on the John Hill farm and Jas. E. McFarren, who afterwards went to California and became a lawyer and banker, was the first teacher. He had seven or eight pupils and taught for two dollars per pupil for a three-month term.

Mrs. Rachel Miller and Eleanor Gillilan did the first weaving in the township, not only home spun for domestic use, but also were exported.

The kitchen and family room in the houses in those days were all in one. They could do very well if they had a patchwork floor, beautiful in color and with fancy designs. It was here the women did the housework, and the men did the outside work.

The early members of the Saberry family came from Ireland about 1790 and located in Virginia. James Saberry, Sr., was born in 1790 and died in 1870. He was the son of James and a country. He made the trip with John Gillilan and family and others who were headed for Missouri.

James Saberry, Jr., was born in 1810 and died in 1870. He was the son of James and a country. He made the trip with John Gillilan and family and others who were headed for Missouri.

James Saberry, Sr., was born in 1790 and died in 1870. He was the son of James and a country. He made the trip with John Gillilan and family and others who were headed for Missouri.

the last years. He had been heard to say there were lots of weeks that he wouldn't feel, just his horse and dogs. For a long time it was four miles to his nearest neighbor, but he never did go back to visit any of his folks or the old home place. His brother, John Callison, came out here in 1850 and stayed with him two years.

March 31, 1857 he was married to Miss Rebecca J. Callison daughter of John and Mary Davis, natives of West Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. Callison became the parents of ten children.

In 1857 Jamesport was located and laid off into lots. In 1860 the population numbered 35. In 1870 the township was organized under the name of Grant and the census of that year showed 704 inhabitants, nine of whom were colored. In 1880 the census gives the township population as 1,379.

The first officers elected in Grant township were elected in 1872 and were as follows: Robert C Williams, supervisor; Isaiah W. Jones, clerk; Eli Kehler, assessor; William I. P. Allen, collector; John W. Warren, constable. On the 7th day of November 1872, the name Grant was changed to Jamesport township its present name.

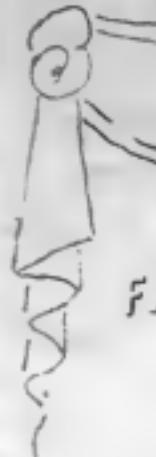

There are very few towns which have a prettier location than the town of Jamesport. On July 25, 1871, the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad reached Jamesport. The population at that time was about 150 persons. Practically the whole town and surrounding territory turned out to celebrate the coming of the railroad.

On August 6, 1872, an act of incorporation was passed by the county court and from that time on it has been the City of Jamesport. The court appointed Franklin Callison, H. O. Grimes, Hare Thomas, A. Barnes, and I. W. Jones as a board of trustees for the town, to hold their offices until their successors should be elected and qualified.

He married Miss Nancy McNeel, daughter of John McNeel, a pioneer of the Hillsboro settlement. After their marriage they settled west of Hillsboro on Hill's Creek, and today rough, native-carved stones mark their resting places on a hill overlooking Hill's Creek. Hill's Creek and the Hill Cemetery can be seen from an overlook in the Park, where each year the Richard Hill Family Reunion is held.

FIRST COUPLE MARRIED IN JAMESPORT TOWNSHIP

Richard Hill was born in Pocahontas county, W. Virginia, in 1814, and came to Daviess county in 1835 locating on a farm 2½ miles west of Jamesport.

Richard Hill and Anna Gillilan, of Greenbrier county, W. Va., were the first couple married in Jamesport township. They were the parents of five children, the oldest, James C. Hill, being the first boy born in Jamesport township. Mrs. Hill died in 1853 and Richard Hill was married again to Miss Agnes Miller, of Jamesport, three children being born to this union.

Richard Hill died in 1890. All of his family have passed on except 16 grandchildren and several great grandchildren and great-great grandchildren/

Jas. Callison, who came to Daviess county 100 years ago, settling at Jamesport. He and his brother Franklin Callison

Jas. Callison, who came to Davies county 100 years ago, settling at Jamesport. He and his brother Franklin Callison, owned the land where Jamesport now stands, and when Dr. J. T. Allen laid off the lots for the town, the new city was named Jamesport all three men having that noun for their first name. Descendants of James Callison, now living in Davies county, now run into the fourth generation.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Oallilan, pioneer Davies Coubtians, who came to Davies county 100 years ago, 1837, and lived near Jamesport. The clothes they wore when the above picture was taken, were typical of those worn in this section a century ago. The picture from which this cut was made is a tintype, touched with color.

THE RICHARD HILL CEMETERY

The Hill Cemetery is located on the brow of a ridge between the Hills Creek Valley and the Bruffays Creek Valley. The land is now (1988) owned by Leroy Rose, and before his ownership, it was known as the Ryder Place. The cemetery is about 200 yards east of the original home site of Richard Hill. Most of the hand-made grave markers are sandstones from the hillside west of the Emmanuel Church along the Bruffays Creek. John Bruffay was the stone carver who did most of the work. He must have prepared several stones in advance as there are stones in the cemetery with decorative carvings but no names or dates on them. He died in 1874.

A stone indicates that Cornelius OHOVER was the first person buried there. Nothing is remembered about him other than he was an Irishman, and no dates appear on the stone. The oldest dated stone appears to be for Jesse Morrison died 1805, the son of James Morrison and Elizabeth Callison.

Richard Hill was first known to be in what is now Pocahontas County in 1786. The Greenbrier County Personal Property Tax 1787 List "B" indicates that he owned two horses. He was married by that time and probably owned land. He purchased land from William & Sarah Resick in 1792 (240 acres) and 1799 (350 acres).

So Long, Mr. Hill

To countless youngsters Ted Hill was a special person.

In his years as a custodian at the Houston Schools, Mr. Hill established a reputation for his kindness to children. A piece of candy, a pat on the head, learning children's names — those were his trademarks.

Mr. Hill delighted in bringing elementary students into his janitor's closet. There youngsters would line up, and Mr. Hill would reach into his sack to pull out a piece of candy.

By the time of his retirement several years ago, many of the children he had befriended through the years had matured into young adults that never forgot the man.

Short in stature, he stood tall in the eyes of those
